Non-winning entries may be picked up at the Reynolds Homestead on Monday, April 30 from Noon to 6:00 p.m. or make arrangements with Lisa Martin to deliver the art back to your school.

Display, Responsibility and Sales

All entries will be displayed as space permits, unless deemed unsuitable for public display. The art show committee reserves the right to decide compliance with rules and resolve issues not covered by them.

The greatest care will be taken in handling and displaying the work. Entry into this show is an acknowledgment that you agree to comply with show rules.

Works for sale are encouraged. The Reynolds Homestead gladly handles these transactions without taking a commission. All art must remain on display for the duration of the show. Art will only be released on the dates and times indicated above. Please do not ask for special privileges. Artists will be charged for items not picked up in a timely manner.
How to Prepare Your Art for Submission

It is preferable that all work be matted and framed, or at least matted, but that is NOT required. Work may not be submitted on lined notebook paper. Please fill out the forms below. The top form should be given to the person registering your work for the show, or to your art teacher if he/she is the one submitting for the entire school. The bottom two forms are to be placed on the back, bottom right of the pieces submitted. Scotch tape is fine for attaching these. Each student should also submit a short biography or artist’s statement for inclusion in the Gallery Book—it is interesting if you tell us about how you became involved in art and what art means to you.

NEW: All biographies must be fewer than 250 words and must be submitted via e-mail to martinlm@vt.edu. Written bios will not be accepted this year.

Give this information to the person checking in your art (or your teacher, if applicable):
